Market Commentary and Outlook

The global economy is forecast to expand this year and next at close to its long-term trend rate, according to the latest estimates provided by the International Monetary Fund (IMF), with growth forecast to be 3.3% in 2026 and 3.2% in 2027. The IMF notes the ‘balancing of divergent forces’ with ‘headwinds from shifting trade policies’ being ‘offset by tailwinds from surging investment related to technology, including artificial intelligence (AI), more so in North America and Asia than in other regions, as well as fiscal and monetary support, broadly accommodative financial conditions, and adaptability of the private sector’. Growth in advanced economies is forecast to be 1.8% in 2026, above the estimate for 2025, but with risks remaining ‘tilted to the downside’.

The broad US stock market (S&P 500 Accumulation Index) declined by 0.8% in February. The Australian market (ASX 200 Accumulation Index) grew by 4.1% during the month, as investors viewed the domestic reporting season favourably. The Australian dollar continued its uptrend, gaining 2.2% relative to the US dollar. Commodity prices were mixed with gold, lithium and oil posting gains, while natural gas and iron ore declined.

Key global share markets have been ‘pricing-in’ a shift by central banks towards less restrictive monetary policy. However, share market volatility has increased following the outbreak of war on 28 February between the US and Iran.

Fund Commentary

The Fiducian Australian Shares Fund returned 3.3% in February, which was below the 3.9% return for the index. The best performing managers for the month were Ausbil (+4.2%), followed by Vanguard (+3.9%). Over the last 12 months, L1 Capital (+32.5%) and Ausbil (+16.8%) were the best performers.

The broad Australian share market (ASX 200 Accumulation Index) gained 4.1% over the month. The RBA cut interest rates three times in 2025, but with the RBA’s preferred measure for inflation (the ‘trimmed mean’ rate) coming in at 3.4% in January, above the RBA’s target range of 2% to 3%, the RBA hiked rates at its 3 February meeting.

Financials (+9.2%), Materials (+9.1%) and Consumer Staples (+6.1%) were the best performing sectors, while Healthcare (-13.3%), Information Technology (-9.1%) and Consumer Discretionary (-5.8%) were the worst performing sectors during this period.

At an aggregate level, the largest sectoral tilts in the Fund is an underweight to Financials, primarily in Listed Property Trusts, and overweight positions in the Materials and Industrials and Telecommunications sectors.
