Market Commentary and Outlook

The global economy is forecast to expand this year and next at close to its long-term trend rate, according to the latest estimates provided by the International Monetary Fund (IMF), with growth forecast to be 3.3% in 2026 and 3.2% in 2027. The IMF notes the ‘balancing of divergent forces’ with ‘headwinds from shifting trade policies’ being ‘offset by tailwinds from surging investment related to technology, including artificial intelligence (AI), more so in North America and Asia than in other regions, as well as fiscal and monetary support, broadly accommodative financial conditions, and adaptability of the private sector’. Growth in advanced economies is forecast to be 1.8% in 2026, above the estimate for 2025, but with risks remaining ‘tilted to the downside’.

The broad US stock market (S&P 500 Accumulation Index) declined by 0.8% in February. The Australian market (ASX 200 Accumulation Index) grew by 4.1% during the month, as investors viewed the domestic reporting season favourably. The Australian dollar continued its uptrend, gaining 2.2% relative to the US dollar. Commodity prices were mixed with gold, lithium and oil posting gains, while natural gas and iron ore declined.

Key global share markets have been ‘pricing-in’ a shift by central banks towards less restrictive monetary policy. However, share market volatility has increased following the outbreak of war on 28 February between the US and Iran.

Fund Commentary

The Fund declined by 1.4% in February, which was below the benchmark return of -1.1% for the MSCI World ex-Australia Index (in AUD). Over the month, Vanguard Emerging Markets (+3.7%) and the Fiducian Indian Fund (+1.6%) were the top performers.

For the 12 months to the end of February, the Fund rose by 4.4%. Vanguard Emerging Markets (+30.2%) was the best performer over the period, followed by the Fiducian Technology Fund (+9.4%).

The Fund remains strongly diversified, with 14 underlying managers and exposure to over 50 different countries and a broad range of industries. The United States and Europe remain the largest regional exposures by virtue of their size in global markets. The largest regional tilt is towards Asian equities (predominantly India), which offer relatively high earnings growth rates, and overall, the Fund has a marginal overweight exposure to emerging markets relative to developed markets.
