Market Commentary and Outlook

The Indian stock market saw broad gains in September. The large cap Nifty 50 Index increased by 0.8%, the mid cap index was up by 1.4% and the small cap index gained 2.0%. The best performing sectors over the month were Public Sector Banks (+11.4%), Metals (+9.7%) and Automobiles (+6.3%). Information Technology (-4.3%) and Media (-4.3%) were the worst performing sectors over the period.

India's macroeconomic data for September remained resilient, despite facing headwinds from recently announced US tariffs on Indian goods. Annual inflation inched up to 2.1% in August, which is still within the Reserve Bank of India's inflation target range. With core annual inflation remaining stable around 4.1%, the RBI held the interest rate at 5.5% in October, which signals caution amid global trade headwinds.

India reported GDP growth of 7.8% over the year to 30 June 2025, marking the strongest growth in the past five quarters, and significantly ahead of consensus estimates of around 6.5%. The International Monetary Fund upgraded its forecast for India's GDP growth to be 6.4% in 2025 and in 2026, positing that India could remain the fastest growing major economy over the period. Corporates remain cautiously optimistic this year, as overall macroeconomic data points to potential continued market appreciation over the near term.

Overall, the economic backdrop for the Indian market remains broadly positive. While short-term corporate earnings may be dampened by reduced exports to the US, monetary and fiscal policy remains supportive for domestic industries and household consumption. An increase in capital spending is likely across many sectors, while forecasts for real GDP growth over the near-term remain among the strongest in the world.

Fund Commentary

The Fiducian India Fund declined by 0.3% in September, which was above the index return of -0.9% (in Australian dollar terms). Sundaram (+2.4%) was the best performer over the month, followed by Equipose (+0.9%). Over the last 12 months, Sundaram (+2.5%) was the top manager, followed by SBI (-5.7%).

The most significant sector tilts in the Fund are overweight positions in the Industrials and Consumer Staples sectors, which are set to benefit from the strong anticipated growth in the domestic economy, and an underweight position in the Resources sector, where the underlying fund managers are broadly expecting a more modest growth outlook relative to other parts of the market.

Companies with exposure to the capital spending cycle, as well as the manufacturing sector are also expected to perform strongly in the medium term.
